Fear Airliner, Bound For New York
Crashed In Steaming Liberian Bush

DAKAR, French West Africa (UP)—A Pan American Airways Constellation plane carrying 39 persons from South Africa to New York was missing today. It was believed to have crashed in the steaming jungles of Liberia.

The plane lost radio contact after passing over Roberts Field at Monrovia, Liberia. It ran into a violent rainstorm and radioed at 3.30 a.m. that it was returning to Monrovia in 15 minutes to land.

ARCHBISHOP GROESZ

Hungary Court Hears Prelate Plead 'Guilty'

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Archbishop Joseph Groesz, successor to Cardinal Mindszenty as head of the Roman Catholic Church in Hungary, pleaded guilty today to plotting against this country's Communist government, and to other charges.

The archbishop and eight others went on trial before Judge Vilmos Olti who headed the court which convicted Cardinal Mindszenty of similar charges and sent the Primate to prison for life.

It was the same courtroom in which the Cardinal confessed and was tried, and it was the same judge and the same courtroom in the case of American business man Robert A. Vogel, convicted of spying and later released from prison.

The courtroom, which has space for only about 150 spectators, was heavily guarded. The spectators, including diplomats of Communist countries and even one from Yugoslavia, had to produce admission tickets to enter the courtroom.

Each defendant was questioned by the judge who then read a 12-page indictment accusing the defendants of organizing a plot to overthrow the Hungarian government and restore the kingdom of the Hapsburgs. This was the principal charge against Cardinal Mindszenty in 1949.

Five of the accused are charged with having led the plot to overthrow the state; two others with participation in the plot. One defendant is accused of murder.

The charges also include spying on behalf of an "imperialist power," obviously meaning the United States, and black-market currency dealings. In addition, many lesser offenses were listed in the indictment.

VANCOUVER RACING GETS UNDER WAY SATURDAY

VANCOUVER (CP)—Horse racing at Lansdowne Park here will start tomorrow after settlement of the purse dispute between horsemen and the track, the British Columbia Turf and Country Club said today.

B.C. Turf, operators of the track, said members of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association had voted unanimously today to accept an offer of increased purses based pro rata on any increase in the pari-mutuel betting.

The track had been scheduled to open Wednesday but horsemen refused to race their stock for the $850 purses offered by the track. They had asked $950. (See Entries Page 13).

Red Jets Take Another Loss; Kaesong Taken

29 MIG's Put Out
Of Fight This Week

TOKYO (AP)—The Communist Air Force was beaten for the fifth day this week in two roaring jet battles over North Korea today. American Sabre jets shot down two Russian-made jets and damaged three, the United States Fifth Air Force announced.

That raised Red losses this week to 11 planes shot down, one probably destroyed and 17 damaged—a total of 29.

Eighty-nine jets were involved in the two battles, which were fought within 12 hours of the first fire-bomb attack on United Nations troops.

On the ground, U.N. patrols Friday ran into what appeared to be the Red's first line of defense on the western front. Allied officers there predict a limited Communist counter-offensive by Monday.

Front-line dispatches reported Chinese shovelled artillery and mortar fire on an Allied patrol north of Yonchon. That, for the second successive day, forced back U.N. units probing toward Pyongyang in the old Red "Iron Triangle."

The Reds didn't try to interfere with patrols poking around Kaesong, far to the west. The town was entered Thursday but not returned until Friday.

Reds made three small attacks on the east central front Friday but didn't get anywhere. Their air force was no more successful.

Thirty Red-nosed Mig-15s roared out of Manchuria Friday morning to renew the jet war after a one-day lull. Twenty-eight Sabre jets swooped down on them 30 miles from the Manchurian border.

Two Migs were shot down and two damaged in the engagement, fought at 10,000 feet.

Another Mig was damaged in a second battle in the same area about noon. Six Sabre jets took on an estimated 25 Migs in that fight.

The Fifth Air Force did not say whether any American jets were lost.

Huge Dry Dock Closed By Strike

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—The huge Saint John Dry Dock Co. Ltd., was closed today as 340 workers declined to cross picket lines set up by another union.

The Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers (C.I.U.) struck three days ago for higher wages.

Today, 340 members of four A.F.L. unions in the dry dock declined to cross the lines.

Tennis Champion Charged With Elk Lake Robbery

Jack H. Milledge Held;
Father Here For Defense

Widely-known tennis player Jack H. Milledge, 23, 1740 Fort Street, was charged today with robbery with violence in connection with the $49 hold-up of Mrs. Huna Usher, proprietress of the Toby Jug tearoom, Elk Lake, Wednesday morning.

Arrested late Thursday night at his home by Sgt. Eric Elwell and Const. Joseph Armstrong, Milledge appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall at a special sitting of Saanich police court here and was remanded without plea to a regular sitting next Thursday afternoon.

Old Model Green Car Clue

Saanich police did not immediately disclose whether the fingerprints tallied with those of the bandit found on a glass of milk he had ordered at the Toby Jug shortly before the hold-up.

Finger of suspicion was pointed at Milledge after Mrs. Usher and others reported the bandit fled in an old green-painted car. Milledge is the owner of an old-type, green Chevrolet, police said.

Milledge, who was to have played in a semifinal match tonight in the men's singles event of the annual Victoria Lawn Tennis Club tournament, appeared in court today represented by his father, A. A. Milledge, a New Westminster barrister.

The father explained to Magistrate Hall he had flown over from the mainland only a few hours before and had no time to prepare for the case. He said he would represent his son until another lawyer can be retained.

Detailed Description Given

The charge as filed does not allege armed robbery, although Mrs. Usher had told a Times reporter shortly after the hold-up she believed the bandit jammed a revolver into her back. Police have refused to comment on this angle of the case.

Police are known to have questioned several persons who reported they saw the bandit have pie and milk at the tearoom the morning before the hold-up. Others who saw him drive away in the old-model green car after the hold-up have given statements to police.

Mrs. Usher, who said she was brutally manhandled by the bandit, was able to give police a fairly complete description of her assailant.

She told police the bandit had ordered milk and pie Wednesday morning, then after she had gone

CONGRESSMEN, 72, 63 ENGAGE IN FIST FIGHT

WASHINGTON (UP)—Reps. Clarence Cannon, (D-Mo.), and John Phillips (R-Calif.), got into a fist fight today.

Phillips suffered a cut lip that had to be sewed up.

Cannon is 72 years old and Phillips 63. It was the second time in his congressional career that Cannon has come to blows with one of his colleagues.

The first time was six years ago when he swapped punches with Rep. John Taber (R-N.Y.).

Taber was a witness to today's brief encounter in a corridor of the capital, and separated the combatants.

Salad-Eating Victorians Visit Meat Marts To Complain, Not Buy

According to city butchers Victorians are living on salads.

A survey of city meat markets today determined that sales this week have been decidedly below the usual for this time of year, even allowing for less meat consumption because of hot weather.

One butcher, standing alone in his shop, said he couldn't remember a week as quiet.

"I haven't had a customer for the last hour," he lamented. "Then, when they do come in, they do nothing but complain about the prices. And it's not my fault."

Another dealer speculated that because what has appeared in newspapers and been broadcast by radio about organized meat-buying strikes that some persons are afraid to buy meat, even though they wanted it.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

TROOPING THE COLOR

LONDON—In no other country in the world is military pomp and pageantry carried to the superlative degree that it is in Britain, and yesterday we were fortunate enough to have seen at one of the most brilliant examples of military pageantry extant—Trooping the Color in celebration of the King's Birthday.

This year that traditionally superb spectacle assumed an added interest, for, while to everyone's regret the King's illness prevented his attending, the occasion was unique in that, for the first time, Princess Elizabeth, as heir to the throne, received the traditional honors of a sovereign.

PRINCESS COLONEL

SHE HERSELF was a striking figure as she rode down The Mall and on to the Horse-Guards Parade mounted—side-saddle—on Winston, a handsome chestnut police horse. Incidentally, as a British Columbian, I took pride in learning that Mrs. Archer-Houblin, who trained this horse for the occasion and also acted as "stand-in" for the Princess at the rehearsals of the ceremony has relatives in Kelowna.

Her Royal Highness, as Colonel of the Grenadier Guards, looked lovely in her scarlet tunic of the regiment, wearing the sash of the Order of the Garter, with medals and orders, and a dark blue riding skirt.

SPECIAL HAT

BUT IT WAS her hat that most intrigued everybody, for on former occasions when appearing with the regiment she had worn a high-peaked type of cap which had been rather freely criticized as unbecoming. So, for the Trooping the Color, she appeared in a very becoming tricorn of silky bearskin, with a white plume fixed into a grenade on one side.

My feminine readers may be interested to know that the hat, which is an exact copy of the headgear worn by a Colonel of the Grenadier Guards in the year 1745, was specially designed by Mr. Aage Thaarup, the Danish-born milliner who creates all the hats worn by the Queen and both Princesses.

OTHER ROYALTIES

H.R.H. the Duke of Gloucester rode with Princess Elizabeth, and they were accompanied by a Sovereign's Escort of Household Cavalry—Life Guards—in their scarlet and gold tunics and brass helmets with flowing white plumes, and Horse Guards, in blue tunics and brass helmets with scarlet plumes.

Just prior to their arrival, the Queen, in hyacinth blue, with Queen Mary, Princess Margaret, the Duchess of Gloucester, the Duchess of Kent, little Prince Charles and Prince Richard, the King of Norway and Princess Astrid of Norway, arrived in open carriages and took their places at a window above the parade ground. And it was delightful to see the Queen—like any other "grannie"—take little Prince Charles on her knee and point out to him where his "Mummy" was sitting like a statue on her horse.

SUPERB SPECTACLE

AS TO THE ceremony itself, it is difficult to describe it in words. The sight of those thousands of scarlet-clad Grenadier, Scots and Coldstream Guards, with their huge bearskins, standing immobile in a hollow square, or marching and manoeuvring with a precision that reminded one of clockwork automatons, the opening slow sweep of the massed bands, drums and pipes of the Brigade of Guards across the parade ground, the ritual of the Color and its taking-over, the glittering cavalcade of the Household Cavalry as they marched past on their satiny-skinned mounts, the mounted band of the Life-Guards in their medieval-looking tunics of gold, embroidered on the backs with the Royal arms—all were part of a kaleidoscope of brilliant color.

REGAL DIGNITY

AND I DEFY even the most hardened cynic not to have been stirred by the strains of God Save the King as it rolled out across the huge parade ground, with its thousands of troops and many thousands of spectators. Stirring, too, were such famous and familiar old tunes as "The British Grenadiers," "Hella Laddie"—played by the Scots Guards—"Coronation Bells" and "The Keel Row."

But most stirring of all, in my humble opinion, was the sight of Princess Elizabeth, a very lovely young figure who, throughout an exacting hour or so, as the central personality of an almost overwhelmingly massive military occasion, was the quintessence of regal dignity and poise. No wonder that the atmosphere was almost electric with loyal emotion.

Victorians for a second day sweltered in downtown Victoria as the mercury shot over the 70-degree mark late this morning. The thermometer yesterday reached a high of 76 degrees in the business section of the city.

Four Shot Dead As Miner Runs Amok

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Four persons died in blazing bursts of gunfire today as a coal miner ran amok in a mining community, killing two women and an assistant fire chief before taking his own life.

Police said the slayer was William Johnson, 51-year-old, negro. They identified Johnson's victims as Mrs. Frank Chiner; her widowed sister, Mrs. Susie Gazo, and assistant fire chief, Michael Krocheck. All three were white. Johnson, the women and their families all lived in the same house in the small town of Republic, about 12 miles west of Uniontown.

How to Torture Your Husband

BY H. T. WEBSTER

National Health Plan Disclosed By Martin

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has indicated it may move next year towards setting up a national health insurance scheme.

The possibility of a government-administered plan was offered in the Commons last night by Health Minister Martin in the teeth of challenges by opposition members to match the Canadian Medical Association's scheme of prepaid medical care.

Mr. Martin went only so far as to say that next year the government will "give consideration" to establishing a special committee to deal with the problem of health insurance.

But that immediately stirred members' hopes. Mr. Martin's statement was regarded as a commitment by the House, which recalled the effects of a similar committee created on old-age pensions two years ago.

That committee's recommendations, providing for an old-age security program, were translated into legislation by the government and began their way through the Commons in statutory form yesterday. Under the legislation, the federal government offers to make it easier for the aged and blind to qualify for pensions and allowances.

If the provinces accept, the federal government will share with them the cost of pensions to the needy between 65 and 69 and blind persons 21 and over.

Mr. Martin told the House the overall cost of the whole social security program will be $400,000,000 a year.

$40 PER MONTH

Under the proposed new program, the federal government will pay $40 a month to all over 70. The 65-69 pensions will be paid on a "means test" basis. Present pensions are supplemented by the provinces.

On the health side, several members of the Commons urged the government to move more quickly than the "step-by-step" program laid down by the health minister.

C.C.F. members pressed for the establishment of a special committee, and it was in response to their demands that Mr. Martin said "consideration" would be given to setting it up. He specified it would not be at the fall sitting.

Pressure came also from the Progressive Conservatives. Dr. W. G. Blair (P.C. Lanark), their spokesman on health, said a national health plan for Canada is a necessity.

Operators Settle Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—West coast ship's radio operators returned to their jobs early today as the American Radio Association (C.I.O.) ended its six-day-old strike against commercial shipping.

Agreement on a new contract was reached shortly before midnight Thursday before the union and the Pacific Maritime Association, representing ship-owners.

Neither side would reveal terms of the agreement, but Philip O'Rourke, vice-president of the A.R.A., said it was "most satisfactory."

The operators sought a general wage increase of $63 a month, which would bring their scale to $415.

Federal conciliator Omar Hoskins, after a six-hour joint meeting, announced that the agreement provided for "wage increases and improvements in working conditions."

Titanium was discovered by an English clergyman in 1791 and named by a German scientist some years later.

Two Injured Pedestrians Make Progress

Elderly Man, Woman Traffic Victims

Miss Minnie Day, 84, of 3651 Quadra Street, and Bertam Ripley, 60, of 1145 Balmoral Road, both pedestrians, and motorist Frank Sails, 868 Hampshire Road, injured in Thursday afternoon and night traffic accidents in the city and Saanich were reported in good condition at Jubilee Hospital today.

Miss Day suffered a possible broken ankle when struck by a Canadian Bakeries truck being backed out of the driveway of her home by William Aldridge at 3.30. Constable Ed Anderson of Saanich police reported.

Sails is in hospital with head and hand cuts and back injuries. The car he was driving was in collision with one driven by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, 951 Beach Drive, at 2.55 at Beechwood Avenue and Ross Street. The impact knocked the car over, heavily damaging it.

Ripley sustained an injured left ankle when he was knocked down by a car driven by Harry R. McDonald, 3352 Oak Street, while crossing Pandora Avenue at Cook Street at 11.25 p.m., city police said.

Saanich police said a new car that had only gone 100 miles and was driven by George Willis, 1628 Myrtle Street, was badly damaged in front when it was in collision with a runaway car owned by Robert Wensley, 231 Stormont Road, at Gorge and Tillicum Roads during the afternoon.

HOME GARDEN

by Hilda Beasly

Every year at this time complaints are heard about the lack of perfume in the present day flowers.

Most of the claims seem to be unfounded as a few observations may prove.

In the case of sweet peas it is usually at the summer flower.

The case of sweet peas it is usually at the summer flower. The case of sweet peas it is usually at the summer flower. The case of sweet peas it is usually at the summer flower.

Frangrance in sweet peas is most pronounced at the end of a day's sunshine and diminishes from thence on. This seems to be reasonable. Add to this fact that by far the greater number of complainants are over the half-age mark (wherever that may be) and the answer is even more apparent. It is a scientific fact that the sense of smell becomes less keen as one adds on the years, and possibly as one continues to live among tobacco and gasoline fumes.

In the case of roses, one often hears at the flower shows: "The new roses don't have the fragrance of the old fashioned ones. The hybridizers have neglected that point in favor of size and color."

Maybe it is a fact that more new roses have been introduced in recent years without decided fragrance than with it. However, the American Rose Annual for 1947 lists fifty varieties with a fragrance rating.

With the joint show of the Victoria Horticultural Society and the Victoria Rose Society being held today and tomorrow at the Crystal Garden, you have the opportunity to see the best of the new and the best of the old varieties in both roses and other flowers.

There are also classes for sweet peas, tuberous begonias, delphiniums, lilies, peonies, pansies and vegetables, so take your notebook and pencil to record those you want to grow next year in your own garden.

R.C.A.F. Pilot Dies In Crash Of Jet Plane

CHATHAM, N.S. (CP)—The pilot of an R.C.A.F. Vampire jet which crashed south of here Thursday was killed, the air force said today.

A ground party arrived at the scene of the crash today and located the body.

The Vampire crashed near Rogersville, about 20 miles south of this fighter base, while on routine aerobatic training Thursday.

The air force said the plane was a complete loss. It crashed about four miles from any road and a ground party was sent to the scene.

Cause of the crash was not known immediately. Name of the pilot was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Suggest Rainmaker For Saanich Farms

Victims Of Prolonged Drought Would Welcome Any Expedient

Saanich farmers today appealed for water or anything, "even a rainmaker," to relieve a three-month drought which threatens to take a heavy toll of crops on south Vancouver Island and bring ruin to many fruit growers.

Hopes expressed in the Daily Times for some relief from the government appeared to fade today when it was shown that plans for an irrigation network in the area are no nearer reality today than they were years ago.

An engineering survey is only just being completed, it was revealed, and financial aspects of such a project would have to be carefully considered before an irrigation district could be set up.

BERRY CROP HURT
The dry spell has already reduced the strawberry and loganberry crops considerably and farmers fear that a prolonged drought may result in heavy losses of pasture crops grown here to reduce the high cost of dairy feed.

Faced with possible losses totaling over $100,000 and with no rain in sight, many growers have hinted that the government should "bring a rainmaker to make rain artificially for their parched lands."

The practice of making rain artificially is carried out extensively in the United States with varied results. Planes are employed to seed clouds with dry ice. This helps moisture form into rain drops.

"Tons of water from the sea, lakes and rivers are evaporating skyward. Why not bring it down in buckets?" said one ruddy-faced Saanich farmer. "I don't see why it can't be done."

Said B. Hoy, provincial horticulturist: "A good idea if it works."

Bespectacled E. R. Heal, a director of the Saanich Fruit

Growers Association, eyed his bone-dry five-acre loganberry farm: "It is worth a try," he said. "Anything, as long as it brings rain to Saanich."

REEVE CAUTIONS

Saanich Reeve Joseph Casey, with an eye to finances, said rain-making might be practical but he wanted to know first the cost of making artificial rain before supporting the move.

Donald Perrie, a meteorologist working for the forest department, and probably the only man in Greater Victoria who has taken part in artificial rain-making experiments, was inclined to doubt the feasibility of such a plan.

"A lot of nonsense has been said about artificial rain," he said. "I doubt if it would work. Of course we must keep an open mind on the subject."

But F. A. Rudd, a successful Burnside Road farmer, shook his head at the idea. "There is a guy up there," he said, pointing to the sky, "and he makes rain whenever he wants."

CANADA'S CRACK JET FIGHTER GOES TO ARCTIC FOR DEFENSE

TORONTO (BUP)—The A. V. Roe Co. indicated today that Canada's crack CF-100 jet fighter would be sent to the Arctic to guard this hemisphere against possible A-bomb attacks from over the roof of the world.

The builders of the world's swiftest all-weather fighter said it would be able, from northern bases, and with the aid of radar screens "to meet and destroy any attacking enemy bombers."

Mass production of the Canuck was believed to have started.

Labor Party Wins By-Election To Boost Majority

WEST HOUGHTON, Eng. (Reuters)—The Labor Government increased its parliamentary majority to five by winning a by-election in this Lancashire town in a straight fight with the Conservatives.

J. T. Price, 48, Labor candidate, was elected with a majority of 8,754 over Conservative Frank J. Land, 38.

In the general election of February, 1950, former Labor M.P. Rhys Davies won the seat against his Conservative opponent by 30,117 to 18,259—a majority of 11,858.

Davies, 74, retired through ill-health.

FAMILY REUNITED

Children Recovered

NEW YORK (CP)—Mrs. Anne Parker last night basked in the smiles of her three children after her 7,000-mile journey to South America to wrest them from her former husband, whom she accused of abducting them.

The smiling, attractive brunette, wife of a Montreal insurance executive, was obviously pleased with herself and her children—Lancelot and Russell, 14, and Cynthia, 11—were as obviously pleased with her.

The four, after a hurried flight from Lima, Peru, pleaded out the story of a woman's invasion of a foreign country and her escape with her family.

(Meanwhile, in Montreal, J. A. Parker said a warrant has been sworn out against Mrs. Parker's former husband, Joseph Bailey, 45, charging that he abducted two and kidnapped one of the children May 8. He said extradition proceedings had been started to return Bailey from Peru for trial.

(And in Lima, Bailey and his present wife, Evelyn Blaudvelt of Yarmouth, N.S., reported to police that the children were missing after being sent on an errand. Peruvian police said Mrs. Parker had gathered up the children and left.)

Mrs. Parker said credit for the success of her venture should go to Lance and Russ—"they are the ones who are responsible for it."

The boys, she said, tipped her off to their address in Lima by smuggling letters out of the Bailey home. They even arranged a return address—through general delivery—that consisted of Lance's name spelled backwards—Yellab Ecnal.

Girl Back From Hike, 13 Days Late

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (UP)—Footsore Evangeline Lorimer returned from a "short hike" 13 days late Thursday night and flopped into bed today exhausted from her strange experience in the great Smoky Mountains.

The 21-year-old Cincinnati student nurse, whose mysterious disappearance caused an extended but fruitless search throughout the Smoky Mountain National Park, showed little signs of suffering.

Her feet appeared swollen and her arms bore evidence of mosquito bites and poison ivy, but otherwise she was unharmed.

"All I want is a good bed," she announced to attendants when she was brought to Broadly Hospital at nearby Sevierville early today.

Dr. Ralph Shilling, who examined the girl, said she was worn out and ordered that she be given a chance to get plenty of rest and Miss Lorimer was wearing blue jeans and a blue tee-shirt; apparently the same hiking costume she had on when she left her minister-father June 8 at their rustic camp at Cade's Cove.

Rangers and volunteers had intensively combed a 12-square mile area looking for the girl. All signs indicated that she had left the park area.

Short, Rumbling Tremor Hits Fullerton, Calif.

FULLERTON, Calif. (UP)—No damage or injuries were reported today from a short, rumbling earthquake which shook this Orange County city Thursday night.

The tremor also was felt at nearby Brea where a small patch of plaster on the ceiling of the fire department office was knocked to the floor. It was not reported elsewhere in Southern California.

Brea night Police Sergeant George Miller said he received about 15 calls from residents who thought the quake was an explosion. The first shock was felt at 9.29 p.m. and was followed by an even lighter shake.

B.C.'S MOVING MOUNTAIN HALTS; MINE TO RESUME

COPPER MOUNTAIN (CP)—The "moving mountain" here has halted its march. Earlier in the week giant rock and mud slides rolled down the mountainside, burying rail lines leading to the zinc and lead mine of the Granby Mining and Smelting Company. Trains couldn't get through and ore bins filled, causing closing of the mine. Tracks have been cleared by bulldozers and mining operations will resume today.

Meter Violations Heavy During Rush Hour Peaks

Council Committee Recommends Job Be Turned Over To City Engineer

Traffic surveyor Robert Dobie told the city public works committee yesterday that about 40 per cent of the city's parking meters are in violation through the peak hours of the day.

The committee will recommend to City Council that the report of city manager C. C. Wyatt on parking meters be adopted in principle, and that complete jurisdiction of the operation and maintenance of meters come under the city engineer.

This was decided as the committee met Thursday to consider the overall problem of how to get more effective control of meters. Receipts have not been as great as those in charge of them think they should be. In a complete airing of the meter problem, the committee, plus the city manager, meter supervisor R. K. Owen and city engineer Cyril Jones agreed the meters were not fulfilling their purpose of helping the traffic problem, partly because of the lack of effective control and enforcement.

It was pointed out the prime consideration in getting meters in Victoria was to aid traffic; revenue is secondary.

The committee instructed Mr. Wyatt to look into the possibility of having commissioners patrol the meters with power to give tickets to violators.

Both Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter, chairman, and Ald. Percy Scureh strongly favored use of commissioners if practicable. They said it would be giving older men a job, but observed the considerable amount of walking the positions entailed would have to be made clear to the commissioners before any agreement was reached.

Other pertinent points brought out:

1. Traffic surveyor Robert Dobie, in answer to a question, said he did not think motorcycle police were best for patrolling meters. He said it was an easier task for a man on foot.

2. The committee agreed the big problem of meter violations is not from the public in general, but from a few hundred who try to park all day when at work.

3. The suggestion two commissioners might be hired for the price of one policeman drew a word of caution from Mr. Owen, who said while it might be a timely expedient, eventually the commissioners might seek higher wages.

4. It was emphasized that even should commissioners or other civilians patrol meters, it would still be the business of policemen to ticket violators.

Boost In Phone Rates Essential

LAKE ROSSEAU, Ont. (CP)—A further increase in telephone rates, additional to those granted during the last year, is needed to provide for increased costs and taxes, Frederick Johnson, president of Bell Telephone Company of Canada, said last night.

Addressing the annual dinner of the Telephone Association of Canada, attended by delegates from major telephone systems from coast to coast, Mr. Johnson stated:

"If investors are to be persuaded to supply the capital necessary to meet public demand for service, it is essential that earnings be sufficient to pay a reasonable return on that capital."

300 PARKING METERS TARGET OF VANDALS IN SINGLE MONTH

Vandalism of Victoria's parking meters is seasonal. R. K. Owen told a special works committee meeting Thursday 300 meters had been broken into or damaged in April but only four break-ins had been recorded in May. City Manager C. C. Wyatt observed that in Kingston, his former home town, students dearly loved to take parking meter heads to hang in their rooms.

Parking Meters Worn Out

Nearly 90 per cent of the 971 parking meters on Victoria's streets have out worn their usefulness and will have to be replaced within the next two years.

This warning by meter supervisor R. K. Owen jolted the city's public works committee Thursday. It was decided manufacturers will be asked to submit samples of different types of meters without delay.

"The meters have been in continuous operation since August, 1947 — they have never really worked very well," Mr. Owen said in a report which covered all phases of meter operation.

3 Perish In Fire At Cloutier, Que.

CLOUTIER, Que. (CP)—Three children were burned to death and eight other persons were injured when fire destroyed a two-story, four-room wooden house here Thursday night.

Flames swept the house when the children's mother, Mrs. Artheme Lacerte, tried to refuel an oil lamp while it still was hot. The can from which she was pouring oil exploded and within seconds the living room was aflame.

CIVIL DEFENCE

LEARN—AND LIVE

THE ATTACK

The word "attack" may fill some of us with apprehension. But the word "defence" . . . modern defence . . . is one that when properly understood can dispel fear and instill reassurance.

Many lurid stories of destruction are exaggerated but they have their origin in truth.

Modern defence is understanding what may happen and knowing how to fight back.

Any defence must take into account all the various methods and weapons which might be used against us. An attack with high explosive and incendiaries would produce:

Blast . . . Splinters . . . Shock . . . FIRE.

Fire is certain to be a prime factor in any attack. Every family must become an actual fire fighting unit to control fires in the early stages and to prevent them spreading. You cannot depend on service from regular fire fighting units who will be busy controlling major outbreaks.

A major attack on a thickly populated area may cause casualties and render large numbers homeless.

A knowledge of First Aid is vital.

IT CAN HAPPEN HERE!

Coleman's Column

By JIM COLEMAN

A shocking incident occurred at Manchester last Saturday when an English cricket audience hooted the visiting South African team. This unseemly and churlish display resulted from the fact that the South African batsmen were surveying the scenery with maddening deliberation before attempting to strike the ruddy ball. Each batsman would adjust his cummerbund, shoot the sun with a sextant and read several stanzas from a thin volume of Rupert Brooke's poems before signalling to the umpire that he was prepared to defend his wicket.

Coleman

Egad—there had been no such sordid scene in cricket since that unhappy occasion on which the Australians accused Harold Larwood of bowling at their unprotected noggins instead of aiming for the stumps.

Indeed, considering the number of years involved, the history of British sport has been singularly free from scandalous incidents. It is necessary to go right back to 1867 for a really juicy item—and, even then, the story is spiced only by the scandalous conduct of one of the principal characters.

Mr. Henry Chaplin (who later became Viscount Chaplin) was engaged to a beautiful but flighty creature, named Lady Florence Paget. On the eve of the wedding Lady Florence and Mr. Chaplin flagged a hansom cab and drove down to Regent Street where the lady was scheduled to do a spot of last-minute shopping.

The Lady Vanishes

Giving Henry a chuck under the chin and telling him to wait for her, Lady Florence skipped daintily into a draper's shop. Mr. Chaplin was a patient man and, knowing the whims of titled ladies of beauty and spirit, he sat back to wait.

He must have dozed because, he awakened to hear the cabbie saying: "Looks as if you've 'ad it, guv'nor." The cabbie pointed to the meter attached to the horse's hindquarters. The meter read: £12, 8s, 6d.

Mr. Chaplin stepped briskly into the draper's shop, rapped on the counter with his cane and demanded: "I say! Is my fiancée here?"

"If you mean the young lady 'oo come in your 'ansom," replied the draper's clerk, "she done a bunk out the back door with young Lord 'Astings."

Zounds, Stabbed In The Back

Od's blood—it was true. Lady Florence Paget had eloped with Viscount Hastings, a renowned young topospot and rapsallion. They were married even while Chaplin was attempting to borrow enough scratch to pay the cab tab.

Three years passed and Mr. Chaplin had a horse, named Hermit, staked in The Derby. He was still carrying a torch for Flo, as they say in the Latin Quarter, and conscious of this, Hastings was anxious to discredit his one-time rival.

Ten days before The Derby, Hermit burst a blood-vessel during a trial run, and in the language of the trade, "bleed a bucketful."

History is significantly vague concerning whether Viscount Hastings knew of this accident. But, he badgered Chaplin into wagering. Hastings wagered so intemperately that he mortgaged his home and his future and, eventually, he had bet $600,000 that Hermit WOULDNT win The Derby.

The Hermit Comes Out

On Derby Day, 1867, a violent storm raged over Epsom Downs and the course was swept by snow and rain. The horse was ailing but Chaplin sent him to the post.

Then, Chaplin, walked to the big tree at Tattenham Corner and, gloomily, prepared to watch Hastings' final triumph.

If you look into the record books, you'll see that Hermit won the 1867 Derby, besting Marksmen by a neck. The big horse splashed through the snow and driving rain and staggered home in front.

The Duke of Westminster, who was an uncle of Lady Chaplin, observed: "When our Harry is broke, which is only a matter of time, all the crowned heads of Europe ought to give him a $100,000 a year in order that he may show them how to spend their money."

As a latter-day sage said: "All horse-players must die broke."

MEET COLLINGWOOD TOMORROW

United Get Good Soccer Lesson From Old-Timers

Using their experience and brains to offset the disadvantage of creaking joints and short wind, Victoria's old-timers all-star soccer team gave Victoria United a good wrestle at Macdonald Park last night before bowing 5-3.

The game served two purposes—to give United a hearty vote of thanks for defeating Fulham and to give the winners a hard workout in preparation for the provincial cup semifinal with Collingwood tomorrow.

Playing a rushing game, all-stars dented the hemp first when Alex Ross "Samsoned" a neat three-way passing play by beating Joe Travis in the United nets.

Left-winger Ab Travis countered this goal with one and Wally Milligan put them ahead shortly before the half-time whistle.

Dan Plechas Meets Bell In Mat Feature

Danny Plechas, whom Rocky Brooks calls "a very nice boy" and whom the average local wrestling fan hates worse than smallpox, will see action for the third time here on Saturday night at the Arena in Brooks' weekly mat card. The cards have been switched from Friday night to Saturday to avoid clashing with bouts in Tacoma.

Plechas will meet another renowned mat star, Kay Bell who is a Hollywood stand-in for Victor Mature. Hall was the fellow who really strangled that lion in the picture "Samson and Delilah." They will appear in one half of the double main event.

GEIGEL RETURNS

The other half of the main event will put Hans Schnable against Bob Geigel. In other bouts, a local boy will meet a Montreal fighter in the prelim, both fighters yet to be named. Frank Hurley, Australian who appeared last week, will tackle Bud Rettel in the semi-wind-up.

The last bout on the card will be a tag-team event with the winners of the double main meeting the losers in what is always a hilarious fight.

DOWELL CUP MATCH

Colwood Golf Club defeated Uplands Club, 7½ to 4½ in the annual women's inter-club spring match for the Dowell Cup recently.

Meeting The Law Of Supply And Demand

This happy bunch of ball players are content to let the Victoria Athletics worry about high finances. All they need for their one-a-cat game is a bat, a ball, a piece of paper for home plate and the cushion off the principal's chair for a chest protector. The determined slugger is nine-year-old Billy Parker and the catcher is Dickie Davidson, a veteran at eight. Calling the play is eight-year-old arbitrator Barry Nicholson. All are grade three pupils at North Ward School.

MARG TODD IN GOLF FINAL

VANCOUVER (CP)—The same contenders as last year will meet today in the final of the B.C. women's golf championship here.

Babe Davies, defending champion from Vancouver Marine Drive, will meet Mrs. Jack Todd of Victoria in the 36-hole final.

Thursday, Mrs. Todd eliminated medalist Mrs. Jean Knox of Marine Drive 6 and 5 in the 18-hole semifinals, while Miss Marjorie Todd, also of Victoria, lost to Babs Davies 3 and 1.

Tommy Elmsley entered the finals of the ladies' singles Thursday night with a 4-6, 6-2, 6-2 win over Gwynedd Dawson. The other semifinal this evening is between Beryl Keyes and Bessie Wilson.

Carl Brand and Jack Millidge defeated Don McCormick and Viv Hicks to advance into the semifinals of the men's doubles. Scores were 6-3, 6-0.

In the men's flight, 69-year-old Victor Sherman reached the finals with a 4-6, 6-3, 6-2 win over Viv Hicks. He will meet Art Enzor, who whipped Jimmy Wells Thursday night, in the finals this evening.

Thursday results and tonight's draw follow:

Results: Men's Singles—R. Mitchell won from J. Parker, 6-4, 6-8.

Women's Singles—Miss T. Elmsley won from Mrs. G. Dawson, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Browns To Remain In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Bustling Bill Veck was confident today that he can buy enough of the minority stock in the St. Louis Browns to enable him to take ownership of the last-place team by July 4.

Not only that, but the spectacular showman who skipped the Cleveland Indians through four successful seasons, was confident he could make the Browns a winning ball club that would draw big crowds "right here in St. Louis."

The deal for Veck to take control of the club is well underway, with only the purchase of a small percentage of the minority stock holding up its completion.

And vigorous Veck made it clear he will keep the Browns in St. Louis if he becomes owner.

"I have absolutely no thought of transferring the club elsewhere," he said today. "It stays here. I think we can build up interest in the team. I want to put this as strong as possible—the best way I can put it is to say that there is as much chance of transferring the Yankees out of New York as there is of moving this club elsewhere."

Veck made it just as clear that he thinks St. Louis is big enough to support two good major league teams—the Browns and the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League, who would become his tenants at Sportsman Park if he becomes owner of the Browns.

Stengel Convinced Sox Serious Threat

Down Yanks To Maintain Safe Bulge

NEW YORK (UP)—Even some of the die-hards who swore that "it can't happen here" were beginning to think in terms of a "Coast League" world series today in which those freshman battlers from that loop, Paul Richards and Charley Drensen, would meet again come October.

One of these die-hards was a glum Casey Stengel, who first scoffed at the way Richards' White Sox were whizzing through the early part of the schedule, but who now acknowledges that "you've got to take 'em seriously."

"They can be beaten, but somebody had better start doing it," he said, after a 5-2 White Sox triumph over the Yankees in the series-splitting finale that left them 3½ games in front—the margin they enjoyed when they came to town for what Richards termed "the series of the year."

Stengel, not at all pleased with the way the Yankees have been playing, paid grudging tribute to Saul Rogovin, who hurled a flashy four-hitter, yielding only a pair of home runs to Johnny Mize to mar an otherwise superb job.

UNDER-RATED STAFF
"The guy had more stuff than it looked like he had, but that's the way with all those White Sox pitchers," he said. "They fool you plenty."

The White Sox made 13 hits, three by Nelson Fox, and two each by Robinson, one a homer—and Rogovin to win without difficulty.

Drensen, who piloted Oakland to a coast pennant last year while Richards finished sixth with Seattle, figured to be up front all the way and yesterday his Dodgers took their fastest lead of the year, 6½ games.

They beat the Reds, 6-4, while the second place Giants were losing to the Cardinals again, 2-0. The Phils outslugged the Pirates, 10-5, and the Cubs and Braves were rained out. In other American League games, Cleveland topped Boston, 8-4, the Tigers downed Philadelphia, 9-3, and Washington beat St. Louis, 9-2.

Freacher Ro extended the longest winning streak in the majors to 10 games without a defeat for Brooklyn, tring a little in the ninth when Roy McMillan homered and Bobby Adams singled, but Carl Erskine came in to stop the rally. Gil Hodges with a double and single and Jackie Robinson with a homer paced the 10-hit attack.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor.

Two years ago this month almost to the day, Ted Norbert was fired as manager of the Victoria Athletics baseball team. Ted was manager of a losing ball club at that time and was given the official notice of the action of the directors in Tacoma, Washington.

Today the Victoria Athletics left for Tacoma and a series with the Tigers. Today the directors of the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Company were scheduled to hold a meeting.

Though it is not known what was to transpire at this meeting—and there was even some doubt as to whether it would be held due to the absence from the city of one or more of the directors—nevertheless, the subject of the Victoria Athletics was one question that definitely would be discussed.

The Athletics would be discussed first because the directors of the company are responsible to the shareholders for protecting their interests.

Second, because the Athletics are losing not only baseball games, but also are in a very precarious financial position.

Third, because the responsibility for the showing of the team rests on the shoulders of Dick Barrett.

There has been no official talk of firing Barrett, although it is known that some of the directors are far from pleased with his work. One reason for this outlook is that Barrett has failed to live up to an important part of the contract, that being his status of playing manager.

At the moment and for the past few moments (weeks would be a better word) Barrett has been anything but a playing manager. The reason for this is that Barrett has a sore arm. He kept this fact a secret until Tuesday of this week, which is almost four weeks since he suffered the injury to his prized flipper.

Why the subterfuge? The fans want to know. The directors want to know.

There is no need to point out here that Barrett has been a disappointment, both as a manager and as a player. The directors won't come right out in the open and admit it, but this is a fact. On previous occasions this season, Barrett has been on the carpet—the red plush mat which losing managers have no other course but to tread, but so far Barrett has escaped unscathed.

Too much wasn't expected of Barrett as a starter—after all, some of the soup in that 43-year-old flipper must have dried up by this time, but he was at least expected to be a valuable relief pitcher. So far, he has failed to appear in relief even once.

As a manager, Barrett has made a lot of mistakes, although some of his omissions may not entirely have been of his own making. He said himself at the start of the year, he had a lot to learn, but he has learned quickly enough? His gate appeal certainly hasn't offset his lack of experience.

Has Barrett had the full cooperation of the club? Has Barrett been given a square deal by the club management? Have his clashes with general manager Red Patterson been of his own composition? Is the management solidly behind the field boss? Are the players solidly behind the management?

All these points must be borne in mind when considering the Athletics and their present plight. These and questions of the actual strength of the club itself. Is it really an eighth-place team? If so, then no manager is to blame. Is it giving its all? If not, then either the manager or the management is at fault.

It is later than you think

Victoria baseball fans—and for five long years they've been GOOD baseball fans—want to know. And they want to know before they place any more of their inflation-depleted dollars on the line.

They want the answer now. And they want it for the simple reason that we don't think they want to lose professional baseball. It would be a terrible catastrophe for a city with the reputation of being "a great sports town" to have professional baseball disappear from the summer calendar.

There has been talk of putting on a drive for funds in the form of a promotional enterprise whereby tickets would be sold in town to everyone. The idea is that if 50,000 Victorians bought only one ticket, it would net the Athletics $45,000, tickets being 90 cents a throw.

Undoubtedly this would save the Victoria franchise, which is endangered to a high degree, but would it solve the problem of the team?

We, and we speak for the fans, don't necessarily desire a winner—only one team can be a winner—but what we would like to see is a contender, a team with some color, some life, some spirit, some ability.

Clashing Of Personalities

All these attributes may not be lacking in the 1951 Athletics, but, if they aren't, then why is the club in the cellar?

True there have been and still are certain deficiencies in the team. Attempts have been made to rectify the problems as they arose during the season. Some of these attempts have been successful; others have not. The club still needs additional batting and pitching strength. This is readily admitted. But, on the other hand, the Athletics were, at the start of the season, considered the equal of any club in the league with the possible exception of Vancouver.

What has happened then in the interim?

Personally we think it's a clash of personalities between Barrett and the management. Between the team and the management. Between Barrett and the fans. And the sooner something is done about it, the better for all concerned.

This, then, is the problem which faces the directors of the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Company when they meet, either today or in the near future.

Let us hope that the matter, can be ironed out to the satisfaction of all, especially the fans, who after all will decide whether professional baseball is to remain in Victoria.

'Y' Track Squad Flies To Mainland

A team of 13 Y.M.C.A. and six naval cadet trackmen will leave Victoria by chartered plane for Vancouver Saturday. They will contest the fourth annual B.C. relays at U.B.C., Bruce Humber of the club's final workout last night.

A 14th runner, who will wear "Y" colors, will be Pete Steward of Oliver, B.C., and the University of Washington.

Steward, Washington's top hurdler and captain-elect of the university's 1952 track team, will run the hurdles. The Oliver boy, by times, Canada's best hurdler, wants to compete in this country during the summer so the Olympic selection committee will take note of his ability.

Members of the "Y" team who will make the trip in the open events are Rafael Duke, Bob Hutchinson, Johnny Johnson, Don Burgess, Don Pimlott, Don Wilson and captain Cliff Salmund.

In the junior events the "Y" will be represented by Ted Whan, John Whan, Bob Abbott and Jim Kennett.

The "Y" will enter Dawn Josephs and Chris Boyd in the girls' events. They will compete the senior and junior high and broad jumps respectively.

The "Y" will enter the open 440 relay, the open distance medley, the juvenile 440 relay and the juvenile sprint medley relay.

CADETS ENTER

Dave McKenzie, coach of the naval and cadet squad will enter a 440-yard and 880-yard relay team. D. Thornton will represent the cadets in the high jump and Ken Wrong will compete in the pole vault.

For the "Y" Don Wilson will enter the high jump and the pole vault. Salmund will run the open two-mile and Hutchinson and Duke will enter the open 100-yard dash.

Oak Bay Club To Host Colwood

Golfers from Colwood and Victoria Club will hold a return match Sunday at Oak Bay. Colwood will carry an eight-point lead into the match, gained in the first meeting of the clubs.

Draw follows:

9.30—W. L. Woodhouse and J. H. Brown vs. O. Greenwood and R. Dunnatt.

9.30—J. A. Squire and Alan Taylor vs. W. P. McCall and V. Painter.

9.30—Dr. G. B. Bigelow and U. P. Rutherford vs. O. H. Lineham and D. H. Smith.

White Sox Have Option On Rivera

CHICAGO (UP)—The Chicago White Sox have an option extending to September 1 to buy outfielder Manuel Rivera from the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League, it was announced today.

Rivera, who was born in Brooklyn despite his Puerto Rican parentage, is a 27-year-old left-hander with a reputation as a fast thrower. He batted .335, drove in 102 runs and stole 55 bases with Gainesville, Fla., in the Florida State League in 1949 and had .338 average, 135 runs driven in and 23 stolen bases last year with Pensacola in the class B Southeastern League.

He came to Seattle after manager Rogers Hornsby saw him play in Puerto Rico last winter and has batted .332, with 52 runs driven in and 23 stolen bases in 84 games this season.

Victoria West senior girls' softball team won the elementary girls city championship yesterday, edging Willows in a close game, 10-8.

Tribe Stopped By Pogue; Host Shamrocks Tonight

North Shore Indians, who play Shamrocks tonight on the mainland, were robbed of a tie for third place last night when Gordy Pogue, stellar goalkeeper of New Westminster Commandos, locked the door to his goal in the last period and threw away the key.

Indians held leads of 7-6 at the half and 11-10 at the end of the third frame before they ran afoul of Pogue.

While the goalie was performing his feats, Alfie Wood notched three last-period goals to give Commandos the edge.

Denny Huddleston, who either changed his price tag or had his money demands met, played his first game of the season for Indians.

Reese New Leader

CHICAGO (UP)—Brooklyn's Peeewe Reese displaced Alvin Dark of the New York Giants today in the race for the starting National League shortstop in the 18th annual all-star game July 10.

Reese has 203,906 votes to Dark's 194,752. The extra ballots gave the Dodgers the lead in races for four starting positions and robbed the Giants of their only pacesetter in the nation-wide voting.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals retained his lead as the top vote getter with 232,976. He was trailed by Nelson Fox of the Chicago White Sox and Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox.

Canadian Bisley Team Arrives

SOUTHAMPTON, England (Reuters)—Canada's 18-man Bisley rifle team, which arrived last night aboard the Scythia, is anxious to get on the practice range.

"None of us has fired a shot this year," Mr. Justice Colin W. G. Gibson, team leader, said. "We won our places last year and haven't been able to do anything because of the snow."

For the first time since Canada started participation in the Bisley tournaments in the 1870's, the team contains a woman, Mary McLennan of Alexandra, P.E.I.

She began target shooting at 18, and during the Second World War trained cadets in rifle shooting.

Chinese Red Deserters Hunt Malaya Guerrillas

525 Surrendered So Far; Some Seek Safety Behind Bars, Others Fight Former Comrades

By LIONEL HUDSON

SINGAPORE (Reuters)—Two hundred Chinese who deserted from Communist guerrilla bands operating in the Malayan jungle today are fanatical hunters of their former comrades.

They know their own lives are in peril while any of their revenge-seeking erstwhile colleagues still live.

Since the emergency started in Malaya three years ago, 525 terrorists have surrendered. More than half prefer to live behind barbed wire in detention camps, where they have no fear for their lives. The rest are eager to see the gang they left behind in the jungle wiped out.

They tell security forces where they buried their arms. Some have even collected rewards for bringing weapons stolen from their comrades.

They also pinpoint guerrilla food dumps vital to guerrilla operations and map the tracks through the jungle used by the gangs.

They have been invaluable in identifying Communist leaders and helping security force intelligence to work out the guerrilla "order of battle."

The surrendered Communists have been sentenced to death by the terrorist killer gangs.

Teams of these surrendered men tour resettlement camps throughout the federation to tell the Chinese squatters about the Communists in the jungle. Terrorists have set ambushes for them but so far the former bandits have suffered no casualties.

The most important of all surrendered Communists is Lam Swee, a political commissar who had $7,000 on his head dead or alive when he gave himself up last June. He says all lower ranks of the guerrilla army in Malaya, from local committee members down, would give up the fight if they were not afraid of reprisals by their leaders.

DOCTOR SAYS

By Dr. Edwin P. Jordan

Most of us go through life without ever needing an operation on the brain or the nervous tissues of the spinal cord. But it is comforting to know that if we should need an operation, the chances of successful results are better now than ever before.

Much credit for this must go to one of the great pioneers, Dr. Harvey Cushing, whose painstaking studies on human beings and animals played a large part in developing new methods of surgical treatment of the nervous system. Many others have made their contributions, too, and though one does not like to think of it, the casualties of World Wars I and II made possible the development of new techniques which have greatly speeded the progress of neurosurgery.

Aside from wartime injuries, there are a number of conditions for which this kind of operation may be needed. Accidents can happen in peacetime also, and if a portion of the skull is crushed, the relief of pressure and other measures used by brain surgeons can be—and often has been—life saving.

Many brain tumors also can be operated on successfully and this is a complicated affair. First the location in the brain must be determined. To do this requires an intimate knowledge of the functions of various parts of the brain so that the symptoms can be analyzed and the necessary tests taken and correctly interpreted.

Surgery on the spinal cord is hardly less complicated. Here, too, injuries, tumors and other disorders require difficult diagnostic methods before surgery is even considered. Only when it has been decided where in the spinal cord the trouble lies and its probable nature, is it possible to plan the operation.

Canadian Labor Income At Peak

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian income rose to peak levels during March and the first three months of this year, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Total for the month was $758,000,000, a rise of 16.6 per cent over the March, 1949 total of $650,000,000. The first quarter amounted to $2,240,000,000 compared with $1,930,000,000 a year earlier, a gain of 16 per cent.

There were gains in both periods compared with a year ago in all broad industrial classifications.

Suicide Attempt Cures Insanity

LONDON (AP)—the story of a man who cured his insanity—but not his disposition—by putting a bullet through his own head was told today in a British Medical Journal.

Dr. John Slobach of Basingstoke said that instead of killing himself the would-be suicide succeeded only in performing a rough leucotomy—an operation to remove the frontal lobes of the brain. It has been found to be effective in some types of mania.

Writing in the weekly Lancet, Dr. Slobach said the patient has now recovered and is no longer mad.

The man, a 55-year-old retired army officer, has been suffering from paranoia—a mania featured by depression and delusions of persecution.

One night in his bedroom he shot himself in the right temple with a .38-calibre pistol. The bullet went through his brain and out his left temple.

Instead of dying, the former officer got up next day, dressed himself and cooked his own breakfast.

His wife found him calmly eating, with a slight trickle of blood flowing from the wound.

He was taken to hospital, where the wound was dressed and bone fragments removed. He had lost his memory, but his physical condition was good.

"After three months," reported Dr. Slobach, "he was mentally alert, rational, more interested in his surroundings, cooperative and read the daily papers."

Another two months and the patient was able to go home—with both his wound and his depression cured and his memory restored.

Although her husband now is sane, Dr. Slobach said, the wife reported recently he was "just as bad tempered, unreasonable and as difficult to live with as before."

Yacht Club Prepare For Big Regatta

Members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club will be busy during the next few weeks. The club is sprucing up for the forthcoming Pacific International Yacht Association Regatta, which will be held from June 30 to July 5 at the local club.

The four-day racing program will open July 1 with the large boats sailing division holding the spotlight with a race from Begwell Harbor to Cadboro Bay.

Monday and Tuesday, July 2 and 3, will be small boat sailing days, while July 4 will be feature day. July 5, the last regatta day, will be taken up with special races.

Entertainment has been planned for each evening of the regatta. There will be senior dances Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, while Tuesday night the juniors will take over the clubhouse for a dance.

There will also be a coke and swim party for the juniors on Wednesday evening at the home of junior commodore Cohn Baker.

Chairmen of the various committees follow: Sailing, H. J. Barnes; racing, F. M. Ohrt; power boats, Aldin Nelson; program, John Featherstone; registration, Capt. W. B. L. Misses His Trial In Another Jail

EDMONTON (CP) — Gordon Lyons, suspected bank robber, couldn't appear for his trial in Vancouver Wednesday because he was already in jail in Edmonton on another charge.

R.C.M.P. said that Lyons, alias Blackie Weir, was arrested Sunday morning and charged with theft in connection with a safe cracking at Calmar, 23 miles southwest of Edmonton.

Vancouver Man Heads Grand Orange Lodge

FREDERICTON (CP) — James E. Clancy, Vancouver, deputy grand master of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America for the past year, was elected grand master Thursday at the concluding session of the two-day 121st annual convention. He succeeds R. Hardy Small, Toronto, grand master for the past three years.

Sizeable numbers of them reside in the United States. Others live in Britain, Malaya, Hong Kong and elsewhere.

The pressure is in the form of threatened reprisals against relatives living in China.

It was reported from the Toisan area near Canton, from where most American Chinese emigrated, that the Communists were levying the equivalent of about 25 cents daily against Chinese who have been sending money back to the homeland.

Collects Local Tax

KAMSACK, Sask. (CP) — After considerable debate a local amusement tax of 10 per cent now is in effect here with the town collecting on all entertainment tickets except those for charity affairs. The money will be used for a new administration building.

HOLIDAY HAUNTS In British Columbia's Beautiful Interior

HOPE — GATEWAY TO THE INTERIOR

Commanding a strategic position as regards railway, highway and communication... Hope is undergoing great industrial expansion. Hope is a very popular vacation spot... Its lakes, streams and forest areas are popular with fishermen, hunters and campers. The recent opening of the fine highway from Hope to Princeton completed the last link in the southern Trans-Provincial Highway and has opened vast new areas for fishing, camping and winter sports. Hope boasts many unexploited areas of unexcelled scenic splendor. Hope has an interesting and romantic history. It was founded on its present site on the Fraser River as a Hudson's Bay fort in the year 1848. Now a modern, thriving city, Hope is nestled in a beautiful valley at the foot of rugged Mount Hope. Within driving distance of Hope are the communities of Yale, Laidlaw, Boston Bar and Princeton.

GOVERNMENT DEMANDS VETERANS AND SERVICEMEN FIRST — ACT FAST!!

These 10 excellent N.H.A.-approved 1,200 sq. ft. all-electric homes are the last at this price — Save over $1,000 — BUT ACT FAST.

THERE WILL BE NO MORE

Soon-Victoria will be extremely tight for housing and homes at this price and quality will be a thing of the past.

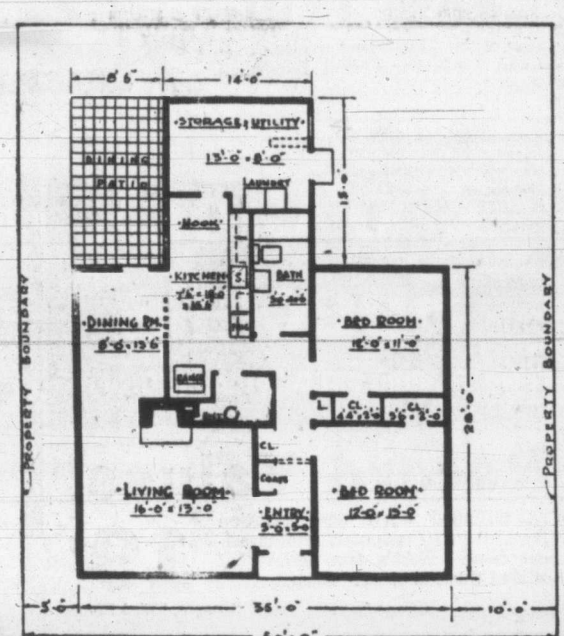

This is your opportunity.

Check These Features:

- 1 A thermostat in every room, with full ALL-ELECTRIC, even temperature, draft-proof, low-cost heating. (Installation costs make this out of the question for standard homes today).
- 2 Fully and double insulated — 4 inches Rockwool on ceiling plus reflective silver foil; 2 inches Rockwool on all walls. This alone is an expensive cost. Stay cool in summer and cosy and warm in winter.
- 3 Every modern feature — through hall, large bedrooms, tapestry plaster in main rooms, etc.; tiled flush cabinet kitchen; Pembroke bathroom, copper plumbing. Modern painting plan; coved ceilings; deep fireplace; large storage and laundry rooms and all-purpose room.
- 4 A housekeeper's dream — a clean home with MAGIC controlled Panelac electric heating which does away with dust laden air, special sealed windows with screened and controlled ventilation louvers beneath. Save on discoloration and wear on drapes and carpets, etc. Extremely fireproof with Duroid roof.
- 5 Full concrete slab foundation that never deteriorates, sags, gets out of line, swells, is squeaky or shrinks, or warps or rots and never needs any costly repairs, plus moisture-proof barrier for a dry home with warm floors which are heated by Panelac rays. This feature gives a higher N.H.A. mortgage.
- 6 Excellent patterns in top quality asphalt tiles laid throughout in the modern manner.
- 7 Veterans' Re-establishment credits arranged on request.
- 8 Any extras or minor changes desired at nominal cost — if PURCHASED NOW, and BEFORE construction reaches desired change.
- 9 All extras at cost. Such standard extras as range wiring, automatic hot water, insurance, legal fees, etc. will only bring your home up to approximately $2,300 down payment.
- 10 Many other wonderful features which can be seen and demonstrated at the building site.

$250.00 deposit — all that is needed to hold one of these homes. Two sold already.

Monthly payments from $34.00, plus taxes, to $38.00, plus taxes, according to your salary.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Life With Junior Monarch Ain't What It Used To Be

By PENNY SAVER

There was a day, so they tell me, when Mom stuck little Heracles in a crib, put a nightie on him and tossed him in a crib to sleep for the day.

What has happened in the last few years to revolutionize this habit is hard to say. But the general trend of things hints that this practise would now be total neglect.

Today the junior monarch, besides being very choosy as to when he will sleep and when he won't, wouldn't dream of lowering his golden locks on the crib mattress unless it was carefully protected with one of these new plastic covers which Mom will buy for $1.39. Fortunately the same type of cover for buggy is only 49 pennies.

These are but a few of the necessities now being made in plastic to satisfy little Heracles.

Bottle holders, a must for every bouncing young individual are offered at 98 cents. You can buy for $1.49 a plastic bag with fibreglass lining that will protect the bottle and keep it warm for three hours. No longer does mother have to worry about being away from home at feeding time.

Diaper bags, of top importance if you are going to transport Heracles around from place to place, are neat and practical. They sell for $1.69 and save Mom a lot of worries.

To amuse him while he is out, or even at home for that matter, are plastic rattles which start at 25 cents.

A teething ring, by the way, is 98 cents, and plastic bibs are 29 pennies.

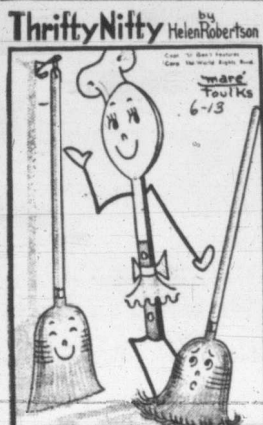

Mom, you'll be thrilled to hear of this one. A non-spill spoon. Most effective for feeding the little child liquids. It resembles a miniature coal scoop and costs 25 cents.

Baby dishes of all sizes and shapes start at 39 cents and of course, are unbreakable.

Maybe Heracles is not at an age where he is thinking of saving money but an owl-shaped money bank selling at 89 cents may instill the thought in his mind in the future.

Something else in the non-spill line is an ordinary looking mug with a plastic cap, that keeps baby's milk from spilling yet lets him drink it. Just think how many accidents will be prevented. They cost 89 cents.

Baby hanger sets imprinted with the days of the week would be a lovely thing for you to have for your child or they also make lovely gifts and cost 98 cents.

Hanging is good for brushes and brooms. Standing on floor weakens bristles.

MARY HAWORTH

Daughter Mentally Ill; Angry Mother Concerned For Own Social Prestige

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: A doctor recently told me that my daughter should go to a mental institution for at least a year and maybe more. I was so shocked that I hardly knew what to say; in fact, I was quite angry with him.

Then a few days ago one of her teachers told me that she acted very strangely at times. She said that she would sit in class and talk to herself and have spells of crying. One day the teacher asked her what was wrong, and my daughter just looked at her strangely and said, "Nothing is the matter; I just want to be left alone." And I am told she added, "Nothing seems real, does it?"

Juanita is 21 years old and a sophomore in college; and her father and I don't see her much. I am out of the city much of the time, and her father's work keeps him rather fully occupied. We cannot afford to let the public know that our daughter is mentally unbalanced, as we have our social position to maintain. Do you think if we sent her away that it would ruin my husband and me? You know how people are about mental illness.

MOTHER'S NEUROSIS DAMAGES DAUGHTER

DEAR C.S.: I gather that your daughter's emotional illness is linked to your characteristic unwillingness to consider the possibility that you could be at fault or a failure in anything. This tense attitude on your part suggests that in your defenseless formative years you were the hapless, critically dismayed target of scathing family criticism and perfectionist demands from authoritative persons — so that you grew up struggling too hard for "social" acceptance; and also disposed to wear blinders to frightening aspects of reality. The curative principle underlying successful treatment is psychological closeness between patient and doctor, which enables the doctor to penetrate the fantasy life of the patient, and gradually focus the patient's attention upon himself (the doctor).

P.T.A. Notes

Tolmie P.T.A. — Annual reports were read and officers elected at the final meeting of the season. A film was shown after the business meeting and refreshments served.

North Ward — Mrs. J. Moutray, first vice-president of Victoria District Council installed the following officers: A. Stevenson, honorary president; Mrs. L. Kermodie, president; Mrs. M. Lunt, vice-president; Mrs. E. McIntyre, recording secretary; N. Dent, treasurer; Mrs. C. Zabrick, social; Mrs. J. McLeod, social; Mrs. A. Robertson, publicity; Mrs. N. Dent, publications; Mrs. F. Fuller, hospitality; Mrs. M. Strong, sunshine; Mrs. L. Howarth, pianist; Mrs. E. McIntyre, radio, and Mrs. Quisey, pre-school. Appointed delegates to Victoria District Council were: Mrs. G. Harris, Mrs. A. Stevenson, Mrs. L. Howarth and Mrs. J. Work. Mrs. Kermodie, Mrs. Moutray and Mrs. Harris were presented with flowers. Miss Margaret McKilligan, vice-principal of North Ward School, who is retiring this month, was presented with a trillium lamp and basket of flowers. Refreshments were served by Mrs. McLeod and committee.

Luxton P.T.A. — Mrs. G. W. Pottenger of Victoria installed the following officers at the annual meeting recently: Mrs. W. Park, president; Mrs. A. Fraser, vice-president; D. French, secretary; Mrs. E. Middleton, treasurer. Committee members are: Mrs. D. French, ways and means; Mrs. J. Moseley, youth and welfare; Mrs. S. Castner, parent education; Mrs. N. Rhode, program; Mrs. E. White, membership and literary; Mrs. R. Mills, publicity and Mrs. K. Giffin, social and hospitality.

Mrs. Moseley, retiring president, received a P.T.A. pin from Mr. French, school principal. Plans were made by the new officers to hold a graduation party for Grade Six students who will be leaving the school for Belmont High. Program for the summer months will include swimming classes at Glen Lake, under direction of A. Lawrence. Several reading groups will be organized for the pupils of the school.

Author Finds Red River Valley Rich In Material

WINNIPEG (CP)—Vera Kelsey, an American author who has written the first complete history of the Red River Valley, returned here recently to autograph copies of her book, "The Red River Runs North."

Much of the research work entailed in the book was done here.

Though Miss Kelsey was born here and grew up in Red River Valley country at Grand Forks, N.D., she said in an interview that like most inhabitants of the valley she knew little about it before beginning the book.

At the outset, she assumed the work would be completed "in a few months." But it took her five years to collect and compose the historical findings in the book.

Miss Kelsey said: "I was amazed. I thought this was only an agricultural country. But it is rich in material for novels, adventure stories, history—there's almost no field one couldn't plunge into and find any number of subjects."

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Though Problem: Hair Oily; Shampoo Gives Her A Cold

(The Friday Question Box)

Q—"You have said that those with oily hair, must shampoo it more often than those with dry hair. Mine is very oily and I wash it twice a week. However, this has caused me much illness since I take cold easily. Can you tell me of anything I can do to remedy this condition?"

CLUB WOMEN'S NEWS

Junior Auxiliary—At a recent meeting held at Ganges Harbor, with Archdeacon G. H. Holmes presiding, a junior auxiliary to Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital was formed. Following officers were elected: Mrs. D. Jenkins, president; Mrs. M. Wells, vice-president; Mrs. B. Peterson, secretary-treasurer; Mesdames D. Fanning, G. J. Andeman and Miss B. Smith, committee. Newly formed branch will hold its meetings on the ninth of each month and will work towards providing equipment for the hospital.

Devotional—Mrs. James Cameron gave the devotional on service at a meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society in the church parlors. Study book on "Our Share in World Missions" was outlined by Mrs. D. A. MacDonald. July meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. G. Robinson, Gordon Head. Mrs. G. Gardiner read the minutes and Mrs. William Mitchell, treasurer, reported on finances.

Initiation—Six new candidates were initiated at meeting of Ladies' Auxiliary to Fraternal Order of Eagles, Tuesday. Lynda Wright, president, was in the chair. New members are: Kathleen Osborne, Bernice Osborne, Mary Bulmer, Hazel Bray, Julia Gibson and Jessie Burns. Past president Mary Hallam received P.P. certificate. The meeting congratulated Sister Mary Bennett on being selected to attend the state meeting in Hoquiam, Wash.

A.—Wash your hair once a week or once every five or six days. In the winter you probably went out into the cold weather too soon after shampooing or the room in which you dried your hair may not have been warm enough. You should look to your nutrition. Perhaps you are not getting enough vitamin A. It might be a good idea for you to take this in capsule form or make cod liver oil a part of your daily intake. There are very good tonics on the market for oily scalps.

Q—"Is loss of hair from an anesthetic permanent or temporary?"

A.—This usually is only temporary. It may be partly due to a lowered state of health. You will come out of it.

Q—"I am a girl of 16. I like to do exercises, especially bending ones when I try to touch my toes. However, the day after doing them I find that I get the most awful pains and aches in my legs and can hardly walk. Why is this?"

A.—Muscles always become sore when one begins exercises. This will pass away. However, you must have done them far too strenuously and too long for a beginner. Always start in with only a few times and work up gradually to a more vigorous routine. When you do front bends you stretch your back leg muscles. You must do this gradually.

Q—"Is there any way of reducing the ribs? I am not fat but my ribs stick out too much."

A.—No—we cannot change bony structure. Be sure that you are getting enough vitamin D.

St. Joseph's Auxiliary Hears Of Hospital Growth

Growth of St. Joseph's Hospital and many changes which have taken place in the 30 years since the hospital was formed in June of 1921, were recalled by Mrs. John Hart, the first president, at the annual meeting recently in the nurses' lounge.

In her report, Mrs. Blair Reid, secretary, spoke of the activities of the auxiliary. Mrs. Frank Sehl, who was president for 18 years, attended the meeting.

The treasurer's report showed receipts of $3,624 with $3,340 spent mostly on purchase of equipment for the hospital. Mrs. A. Dickinson, serving convener, told of 795 articles and 9,030 sponges made.

Mrs. T. Taylor, who was re-elected president, spoke of the members' work in connection with welfare, Community Chest drive, arthritis drive and the Conquer Cancer Society.

Plans were made for a membership and silver tea in September in Our Lady of Lourdes Hall, Haultain Street, with Mrs. J. A. Cooney, convener.

Officers elected were: Mrs. T. Taylor, president; Mrs. J. D. Gillis, first vice-president; Mrs. J. W. Bell, second vice-president; Mrs. Blair Reid, secretary-treasurer; counsellors are Mrs. J. H. Taylor, Mrs. E. Hornsby, Mrs. H. A. Humber, Mrs. T. C. Rogers, Mrs. E. J. Donovan, Mrs. A. M. Morning, Mrs. G. McDonald; Mrs. A. Dickinson is serving convener, and Mrs. Cooney, weekly tea convener.

Following the business meeting, members were guests of the Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild, Nell Edwards' Club Room, 1303 Broad Street, Tuesday, 7:30; articles for exhibition.

Dance Realizes $80

Salt Spring Island Athletic Club held its annual gingham and denim dance at Ganges recently. Decorations were pink and green streamers, balloons, colored lights and summer flowers.

Arrangements were in charge of the social committee and Frank Dyer's four-piece orchestra, provided dancing music. Jerry Howard was master of ceremonies. The affair realized $80.

Mrs. Donald Williams and son Derek.

Former City Girl Finds New Zealand Conservative

The climate is similar to Victoria and the people friendly, but the general atmosphere of New Zealand is more conservative, in the opinion of a Victoria girl.

Mrs. Donald Williams, who now lives in Christchurch.

In Victoria on several months holiday, with her young son, Derek, three, the former Neena McClement is staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClement, at 1042 St. Charles Street.

"New Zealand is very English," she said today, adding that people's ties with the Old Country were very strong.

Of conditions "down under" Mrs. Williams said there was not the variety of merchandise available as imports were restricted in an effort to keep and build up New Zealand industry.

Queried about Australia she said she had not been there as yet.

"It is a four-day trip and again there are restrictions on shipping, so that passage must be booked well ahead."

Mrs. Williams, who came to Canada on the Aorangi, hopes to return by it in September.

Arranged by the Women's Guild of the Co-op Consumer's Society, the affair will feature games-of-chance and a home cooking stall.

Strawberry shortcake and tea will be served from 3 to 6 p.m.

Soo Quads Take A Holiday

Four little girls from Sault Ste. Marie Cavort in a Toronto hotel during their first vacation. The 20-month-old girls, quadruplet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ossie Hargreaves, are shown with their parents. Left to right are Jennifer, Joan, Janice and Joyce. The famed four stopped over in Toronto on the way to Montreal where they made an appearance on TV for the C.M.A. party. (CP photo.)

VICTORIAN SPRING

by Cecil Maiden

He had tossed the whisky back with a jerk again. He set the empty mug down sharply, and passed the back of his hand over his wet mouth. Then he looked at the mug with a fixed stare, quite obviously not seeing it, but unable to take his eyes off it.

Letty went on, with astounding clarity and firmness: "I'm in love with the naval officer into whose hands you placed your gun after you'd fired it. He's up for court martial. Charged with murder. I tried to tell them the truth—but, as far as I knew then, nobody else had seen you, and I'd no proof. I had to come up to the Carriacoo for that!"

"Very neat, sweetheart. Very, very neat. You worked it all out in your own pretty head, didn't you?"

The pale blue eyes were on her again, and behind them was a fast-growing danger. He spread out his hands with an unconcern which every tense line of his body contradicted.

"And what does your ladyship want?" he asked quietly.

She hesitated for a moment.

"What am I to do, sweetheart? Give myself up to the commissioner? You've got it all worked out. What am I to do?"

"Yes, Jake. I've got it all worked out. But it's not the way you're thinking—for Amy's sake."

"Where is she?"

"In Barkerville."

"The hell she is! Go on..."

"For Amy's sake there won't be any need for you to give yourself up. All I need is proof. I've waited since last summer for it."

"And so?"

"I want you to write out your own confession of what happened last night. I want you to sign it, Jake—and I want something that carries your own handwriting, too—your own signature. You've got your mining licence. The police can compare them. With the statement Amy'll give me—that should be enough to convince them. And when you've done it, you can go! You can go back to the girl who's followed you here. And when she's well enough again, you can take her away. There'll be nobody looking for Jake Larrett before then, I fancy. And there's another for you to take with you."

"I see. All worked out, as I said. And you've even dug up another pretty lady from the past, eh?"

"No, Jake. I'm talking about your son."

"My son?"

"The baby came about two weeks ago."

He stood up, reeled drunkenly a little, then came down to the stove. He stared at it for a second or so, looking hard across at her.

"I don't believe you, Jake. That other stuff—about the theatre; about seeing you there—that may be true enough. But not Amy. She's not the kind of girl to come up here. She hasn't the pluck to do it. She'd have taken... other steps."

He muttered something to himself. He was, he realized, trying to make himself disbelieve her story.

"Whatever you believe, Jake—I'm waiting for that letter."

"To save your precious sailor? Even if I listened to you—even if I did what you say—they'd soon be on my heels, no matter how many names I gave myself."

She came away from the window. She was looking quietly at the shawl, but all he saw was that she was standing in the glow of the lamp and the warmth of the stove. She was very inviting—even now. He took another drink—from the bottle itself this time. He replaced it noisily and unsteadily on the floor beside him. Then, as he looked at her again, the desire swept up in him once more, so fiercely that it ignored the danger, the uncertainties, the confusion in his mind... the wild fairy-tale about his son...

Suddenly he was near enough again to stretch out his arms and grip her shoulders. He swung her wildly round to him, and as she turned away her face, tore savagely at the grey dress over one shoulder, pulling it off and ripping it—downwards—until he could sink his hot lips into the warmth beneath.

"You came here, my sweet, because I wanted you. And you're damn well going to get what you came for."

BEDTIME STORY

by Thornton W. Burgess

Peer Will blindly ran away. Courage has the will to stay. —Old Mother Nature.

Mother Bear and her two little cubs were trapped in Farmer Brown's sugar house where the maple trees grow in the Green Forest. Mother Bear and the cubs had got into that sugar house by tearing a hole in the roof. It was easy enough to climb up on the roof on the outside, but now they couldn't climb up to that hole on the inside. The door was closed and locked. There was no window. It is always easier to get into trouble than to get out of it.

Now Mother Bear is not a coward but she was afraid now. Indeed, she was so frightened that she was in a panic. She was tearing about inside that little sugar house, knocking things out of her way, even forgetting the cubs for the time being.

Now it just happened that Farmer Brown's Boy had that very morning started over to that sugar house to get a can of maple syrup. Another boy was with him. Long before they reached the sugar house, or were even in sight of it, they heard strange sounds coming from that direction. They stopped to listen. They looked at each other with a puzzled look on their faces.

Then both boys began to run toward the sugar house. The nearer they got to it, the louder and more strange were the sounds coming from it. When they came in sight of it, they stopped. Such a racket was coming from that little house among the trees! The two boys stared as if somehow they expected to see the roof of that little house come right off.

"Did you hear that?" whispered Farmer Brown's Boy. The other nodded. "It was a growl," he whispered back.

"I wonder if Yowler the Bobcat is in there," said Farmer Brown's Boy in a low voice.

"Come on!" he added. "I'm going to get that door open. There won't be anything left inside if I don't."

"Who's in there?" he yelled. The noise suddenly ceased. Not a sound was to be heard.

FUNNY FISH

An Australian fish, the mud skipper, will drown if kept underwater. It basks on the top of mud flats, can leap four feet across the mud, and can even climb trees.

Ordinary meteors move around in random directions, unlike the great celestial bodies which have fixed courses.

During 1949, the American steel industry consumed 105,000,000 tons of iron ore to make 55,000,000 tons of pig iron and castings.

There are two main ways which fine furniture makes its appeal to the connoisseur—it may have beauty of form, the traditional charm of the old school of furniture makers, or it may lean more heavily on beauty of function, the strength of the modern school of design.

In the finest pieces of all, we discover these two features blended by the master hand, and combined with them is a third—beauty of finish, obtained only by painstaking care in every detail, from the choice of materials to the final hand-polishing.

Here, in EATON'S remodelled Furniture Department, you'll find examples of the very finest in furniture, both period and modern. Study the bedroom suite at the left—a masterpiece of design inspired by French craftsmen of the past and still in keeping with the larger home of today. See the many modern pieces, such as those we sketch here—functional, almost severe in line, perfectly suited to today's living.
